

THE STEPPING STONE TO BECOMING A HIGH-PERFORMANCE PROFESSIONAL

As a graduating student or a recent graduate, you are now approaching a major threshold of stepping into the professional arena. Getting the minimum qualifying marks to be eligible to attend a test and interview is only half the job done.

The expectation from hiring companies is the maturity that entrant graduates need to demonstrate in shouldering responsibilities towards the various stakeholders of the employer organization. Are you ready for this?

The Bar Has Been Raised

The demands of the professional environment are very fluid, changing dynamically and becoming aggressive day-by-day. The career-aspiring youth today has several challenges to face due to various employment situations:

- Stringent hiring norms
- Aggressive job competitions
- Lower interview turnover ratios
- Higher expectations from the IT Industry

In addition, every student goes through the transition pains from the academics phase at college into the professional phase at work.

PeopleCare® Business Solutions, managed by top experts from the IT Industry, have developed a highly customized learning program that prepares graduating students to take on the challenges of the hiring process and be recognised as a high performance individual in the organization.
